NATURAL DENTAL STICKS FOR DOGS

COW BEEF HIDE CHEW STICKS WITH TSUYAHIME RICE BRAN

Cow beef hide refers to the inner layer of a cow's skin, commonly used in pet chews for its durability, digestibility, and natural dental benefits.

Definition cow beef hide

The cleaned, dried inner skin layer of cattle, typically from the dermis beneath the hair and outer epidermis.

Processing

It's washed, cut, and dried (sometimes smoked or baked) to create chewable treats for dogs.

Distinction

"Rawhide" is the general term, but "beef hide" specifies the source—cow—and is often preferred for labelling clarity.

Made in Japan with TSUYAHIME rice bran

Premium quality rice bran from Japan, known for its purity and digestibility.

Supports dental health

Helps reduce plaque and tartar through natural chewing.

No artificial additives

No colors, flavors, or preservatives – just clean ingredients.

Ideal for daily use

A satisfying treat that supports wellness and oral hygiene.

Gentle on the stomach

Enhanced with fiber-rich rice bran for easier digestion.
